For decades, individuals wishing to study homeopathy have had to travel across half the world to India to do so. Now we are bringing you the opportunity to study with The Other Song in Croatia! For the first time, India's The Other Song Academy will offer its education programme in homeopathy in Europe – at the Annah Centre for Homeopathy and Support of Health in Zagreb.

India's The Other Song International Academy of Advanced Homeopathy, headed by Dr Rajan Sankaran, has found a reliable partner in the Annah Centre, and the two have joined together to offer this unique programme.

As a result of this exciting collaboration, it is our great pleasure and honour to announce that this homeopathic education programme is to be conducted in Croatia for the first time within the Annah Centre's Academy of Advanced Homeopathy and Related Methods.

The Other Song Academy

The Other Song is a medical and educational centre in Mumbai, India, where a team of more than 35 homeopathic physicians work under the leadership of Dr Rajan Sankaran. The academy is dedicated to providing the best and most advanced homeopathic education to its students through specialised clinical training using real-life everyday cases. Dr Sankaran is one of the world's most famous homeopaths, renowned for developing a modern homeopathic approach to taking and analysing a case: the Sensation Method.

Dr Rajan Sankaran

A world-renowned homeopathic physician, thinker, teacher and deviser of homeopathic healing systems, Dr Sankaran graduated as a Gold Medallist from the Bombay Homeopathic Medical College. He is an alumnus of Aurangabad University, where he completed his Master's degree. Known for his revolutionary ideas and visionary approach, Dr Sankaran's deep insights have had a profound influence on the thinking and activities of today's homeopaths. His important contributions to homeopathy include a detailed classification of remedies within the periodic system of minerals, as well as his work with the kingdoms and sub-classifications of plant and animal kingdoms in relation to homeopathy. Finding a vital sensation in the client is a crucial aspect of the Sensation Method and, with regard to this, Dr Sankaran talks about the seven levels of experience within man. His ideas and insights, and his style of teaching and writing, make him a popular teacher among homeopaths the world over. His seminars and lectures are presented in many countries worldwide, as well as in his homeland of India, which – thanks to Dr Sankaran's reputation – is a favoured destination for homeopaths and considered a byword for advanced homeopathy.

Dr Sankaran has written many books, a great number of which have been translated into several languages and provide everyday inspiration to people all over the world. Here are just a few examples:

- The Elements of Homoeopathy
- The Spirit of Homoeopathy
- The Substance of Homoeopathy
- The Soul of Remedies
- The System of Homoeopathy
- The Sensation in Homoeopathy
- An Insight into Plants
(Vols 1, 2 and 3)

Annah Academia

Annah Academia is an education program held in Zagreb, Croatia, in Annah Centre for Homeopathy and Support of Health. The mission of Annah Centre is to spread the skills and knowledge in the field of homeopathy and related healing methods, to contribute to the development of homeopathy and related methods as acknowledged and appreciated medical methods, for the well-being of people and community, and to support the clients and their families in their personal, emotional and health progress. The owner of Annah Centre and director of Annah Academia is Ana Šafran, Ph.D.

Ana Šafran

Dr Ana Šafran completed a programme of classical and French homeopathy in Zagreb. She devoted herself to many years of learning from the world's best homeopaths, including Dr Rajan Sankaran. She has visited The Other Song International Academy of Advanced Homeopathy in India several times, where she participated in practical and professional training, specialising in both the Sensation Method and the '8 Box' method of homeopathy.

Alongside homeopathy, Ana works with several complementary methods. She is a Bach Foundation Registered Practitioner. She is also the first certified teacher for Bach flower remedies in Croatia. She has edited a number of works by Dr Edward Bach in the Croatian language, and prepared and edited a book on Bach flower remedies. She is a consultant for Schuessler's tissue salts and facial analysis. She is also an international teacher for Schuessler salts and facial analysis, and a certified trainer for the international education of teachers for Schuessler salts and facial analysis. She is a certified practitioner for Australian Bush Flower Essences and an accredited practitioner of the Buteyko breathing method. Ana says: 'Homeopathy is my great love ... something I greatly enjoy ... that's what God has given me as a gift, a talent and my life mission.'

Of all the homeopathic methods she has studied over the years, Ana most enjoys working with the Sensation Method, which she describes as 'a mixture of homeopathy, psychology and detective work'.

India, as a country of advanced homeopathy, along with The Other Song Academy, are constant sources of inspiration for Ana, and she is always happy to travel there. That's why Ana, and the Annah Centre, are so proud to present this education programme in homeopathy – unique in Croatia, Europe and the world – based on Dr Samuel Hahnemann's classical homeopathy and at the same time enriched with the advanced knowledge of Indian homeopathy.

Welcome to Annah Academia!

Foundation Course in Homeopathy from Annah Academia (four-year programme)

This unique four-year programme of education has been created in partnership with India's The Other Song International Academy of Advanced Homeopathy, headed by Dr Rajan Sankaran.

The programme is being offered in Croatia for the first time thanks to a collaboration between the Annah Centre for Homeopathy and Support for Health, Zagreb, and Dr Sankaran's The Other Song International Academy of Advanced Homeopathy, India.

The idea behind the course was to create an education programme that would provide students with enough knowledge, practice and time to master case studies, working with repertories and remedy analysis to arrive at the optimum solution in the selection of remedies. To achieve this, students require more than two years of education. Experience has shown that, having completed two years of education, homeopaths often still lack sufficient confidence to select proper homeopathic remedies for each case-study. Annah Academia leads you through this homeopathic education programme, ensuring that you gain the experience, practice, skills and confidence in choosing the homeopathic remedies.

The aim of the programme is to transfer knowledge and skills in the field of classical homeopathy, according to Dr Samuel Hahn-mann, complementing this with application of the latest findings and achievements of modern homeopathy. The programme draws on the rich clinical experiences of Indian homeopaths, adapting these to European and Croatian conditions. Lectures are interactive, live and via Skype, so that participants can address questions to the lecturers and discuss specific topics with them, referring to actual cases of homeopathic practice.

This international program is open for the enrollment of students from abroad, from all parts of the world. The lectures are held entirely in English language, which prepares our students for the work in the global environment, with clients from all parts of the world.

Across the four years, participants will gain knowledge in the following areas:

1. Philosophy and principles of homeopathy
2. Organon and other work of Dr Samuel Hahnemann
3. Materia medica – a total of 184 homeopathic remedies
 - 36 remedies in the 1st year
 - 53 remedies in the 2nd year
 - 53 remedies in the 3rd year
 - 42 remedies in the 4th year
4. Miasms in homeopathy
5. Case-taking skills and case analysis
6. Strategies in choosing homeopathic remedies
7. Using repertory – analysis of symptoms and remedies using a homeopathic software program, based on several important repertories
8. Knowledge of the writings of the most important homeopathic authors

The student should attend 80% of the total number of lecture hours in each year. Student can follow the lectures online via webinar if they are unable to attend live lectures at Annah.

At the end of each year, a certificate to indicate completion of that year will be given, showing the number of hours of theoretical and practical education achieved.

At the end of the fourth year, participants will be awarded a joint certificate on their successful completion of the programme, signed by Annah and The Other Song, showing the number of hours of theoretical and practical education achieved.

Postgraduate Course in the Sensation Method from Annah Academia (one-year programme)

This unique one-year programme of education has been created in partnership with India's The Other Song International Academy of Advanced Homeopathy, headed by Dr Rajan Sankaran.

The programme is being offered in Croatia for the first time thanks to a collaboration between the Annah Centre for Homeopathy and Support for Health, Zagreb, and Dr Sankaran's The Other Song International Academy of Advanced Homeopathy, India.

The aim of this programme is to transfer the knowledge and skills of advanced modern homeopathy to homeopathic practitioners according to the Sensation Method developed by Dr Rajan Sankaran. The programme is based on the latest findings and achievements in modern homeopathy, while taking into account the basic principles of classical homeopathy. The programme draws on the rich clinical experiences of Indian homeopaths, adapting these to European and Croatian conditions. Lectures are interactive, live and via Skype, so that participants can address questions to the lecturers and discuss specific topics with them, referring to actual cases of homeopathic practice.

This international program is open for the enrollment of students from abroad, from all parts of the world. The lectures are held entirely in English language, which prepares our students for the work in the global environment, with clients from all parts of the world.

How does the Sensation Method differ from the classical homeopathic approach?

The Sensation Method differs from classic homeopathic consultation. According to this method, the homeopath needs to recognise in the client's story a fundamental sensation that is running through all their life experiences. In this way, the homeopath gains an insight into the client's experiences of reality, the world and the circumstances in which she or he lives. That same vital sensation is then used to determine the appropriate 'kingdom', and remedies are chosen according to the kingdom that is characteristic for the client. Dr Sankaran distinguishes between the plant, animal and mineral kingdoms of homeopathic remedies. According to the Sensation Method, a homeopathic remedy is selected from only one kingdom, whose characteristics and sensations have been revealed. Using the Sensation Method it is possible to determine the appropriate remedy for the client with great certainty.

While studying this programme, students will gain knowledge in the following areas:

1. Basic features of the Sensation Method
2. A modern concept of miasms in homeopathy, according to Dr Sankaran

3. Types of kingdom in homeopathy, and the classification of remedies into the following kingdoms: Plant, Mineral and Animal
4. Case-taking skills and case analysis according to the Sensation Method
5. Strategies in choosing homeopathic remedies using the Sensation Method
6. Using repertory – analysis of symptoms and remedies using a homeopathic software program, based on several important repertories
7. Knowledge of the writings of Dr Sankaran and other homeopathic authors in the field of the Sensation Method, and the classification of remedies into kingdoms

The student should attend 80% of the total number of lecture hours for the program. Student can follow the lectures online via webinar if they are unable to attend live lectures at Annah.

At the end of this one-year program, participants will be awarded a joint certificate on their successful completion of the programme, signed by Annah and The Other Song, showing the number of hours of theoretical and practical education achieved.
